

Safety Practice Scenarios

Unsafe situations:

- You just got out of school. A man in a car says to you, “Your mom told me to pick you up. Hop in the car.” What should you do?
- You are playing in your front yard when a person drives up and says, “Hi there, are you ready to go? Your dad sent me to pick you up and take you to his office. Your mom said it was OK.” What would you do?
- You win a game at the carnival and get to choose a prize. No one else is around so the carnival man tells you to come around to the back of the truck to look at the bigger and better prizes. What would you do?
- You are in the swimming pool at your swimming lessons. Someone in the pool comes over to you and touches your private parts. What would you do?
- You are playing in your yard by yourself when someone in a car drives up and says, “Hi, can you come over the car? I have something for your parents.” What would you do?
- You are playing in your yard by yourself when a person walks up and says, “I lost my kitten around here. Will you come with me and help me find it? Please. I just know if we don’t find it soon something bad might happen to it.” What would you do?
- You are in your front yard running through the sprinkler. A man walks up and says, “Why don’t you take off your swimsuit? It would be more fun and a lot cooler.” What would you do?
- You are playing at the park and see someone standing by some trees. He asks you to come over and talk to him. What would you do?
- You are playing in your front yard when someone in a car drives up and says, “Hi there. I think I’m lost and I need some help. Can you please come over here and tell me where I am?” What would you do?
- An uncle who you like always wants to wrestle. When you wrestle with him he touches your private parts. What would you do?
- You are playing in your front yard when someone walks up and says, “Hi, I’m going to go play in the park. Would you like to come with me? There’s going to be other kids there that you know.” What would you do?
- A man who’s visiting your parents keeps coming into the bathroom and looking at you while you are taking a bath. Since the lock on the door is broken, you can’t lock him out. What would you do?

- You are playing at the park when someone walks up to you and says, “My puppy is lost. See, here’s his picture. Won’t you please come with me and help me find him before he gets hurt?” What would you do?
- You are outside the store waiting for your mom to finish shopping. A woman walks up and says, “Hi, I’m your neighbor. I can give you a ride home so you don’t have to wait.” What would you do?
- You are riding your bike and the chain falls off. A man comes out of his house and says he can help you but you have to bring it into his garage. What would you do?

Safe situations:

- A friend of your parents comes to pick you up at school. He is on the list of people that your parents have agreed can take you out of school. What would you do?
- You are at the house of one of your parent’s friends. Your parents have stepped out of the room. There is no one else around and the friend offers you a piece of candy. What would you do?
- You are at your friend’s house and your friend leaves the room to go to the bathroom. Your friend’s parent comes into the living room and sits down to watch T.V. with you from a different chair. What would you do?
- A woman walks over near enough to talk to you but doesn’t get very close to you. She tells you that she lost her dog. She asks if it would be ok to put the dog’s picture up on the tree in front of your house. She tells you that her phone number is with the picture in case anyone sees her dog. What would you do?
- You are playing in your front yard and a man drives up and says, “Hi, I work with your father. He told me to drop off some information for him. May I leave it in your mailbox for him?” What would you do?
- You have a new friend. His father stops by the park to give your friend a bottle of water. He offers one to you. What would you do?
- You are at the park with your friend and a man in a car drives up. Your friend tells you that the man is his father and asks you to go over to the car to meet him. What would you do?
- You are at the community swimming pool with your parents. The coach who teaches children how to swim offers to show you how to swim better. What would you do?
